SANJAY SHRIVASTAVA
10.12.1954 – 15.3.2016

SANJAY SHRIVASTAVA, popularly known as Ben, is an illustrious alumnus of Hindu College having topped BA Honours History(1971-74) and MA History (74-76), Delhi University. He continues to hold the university record for his outstanding academic achievements in post graduation. He went on to become the topper of the 1977 batch of the Indian Administrative Services and served the government in different capacities for 20 years, in what was a distinguished career as an administrator.

Shri Shrivastava was known for his mesmerising eloquence, debating acumen and quiz wizardry, which won him many laurels for Hindu College.

He was also a very popular Prime Minister of the Hindu College Parliament and was instrumental in starting the annual cultural festival, MECCA, which has grown to be one of the most prestigious college festivals.

Hindu College remains grateful to the family, friends and admirers of Ben who have come forward to institute the Annual Sanjay Shrivastava memorial debate dedicated to the everlasting memory of this brilliant alumnus. We celebrate his legacy that inspires academic brilliance, oratorical skills and pursuit for excellence.
